Your Company's Knowledge Assistant

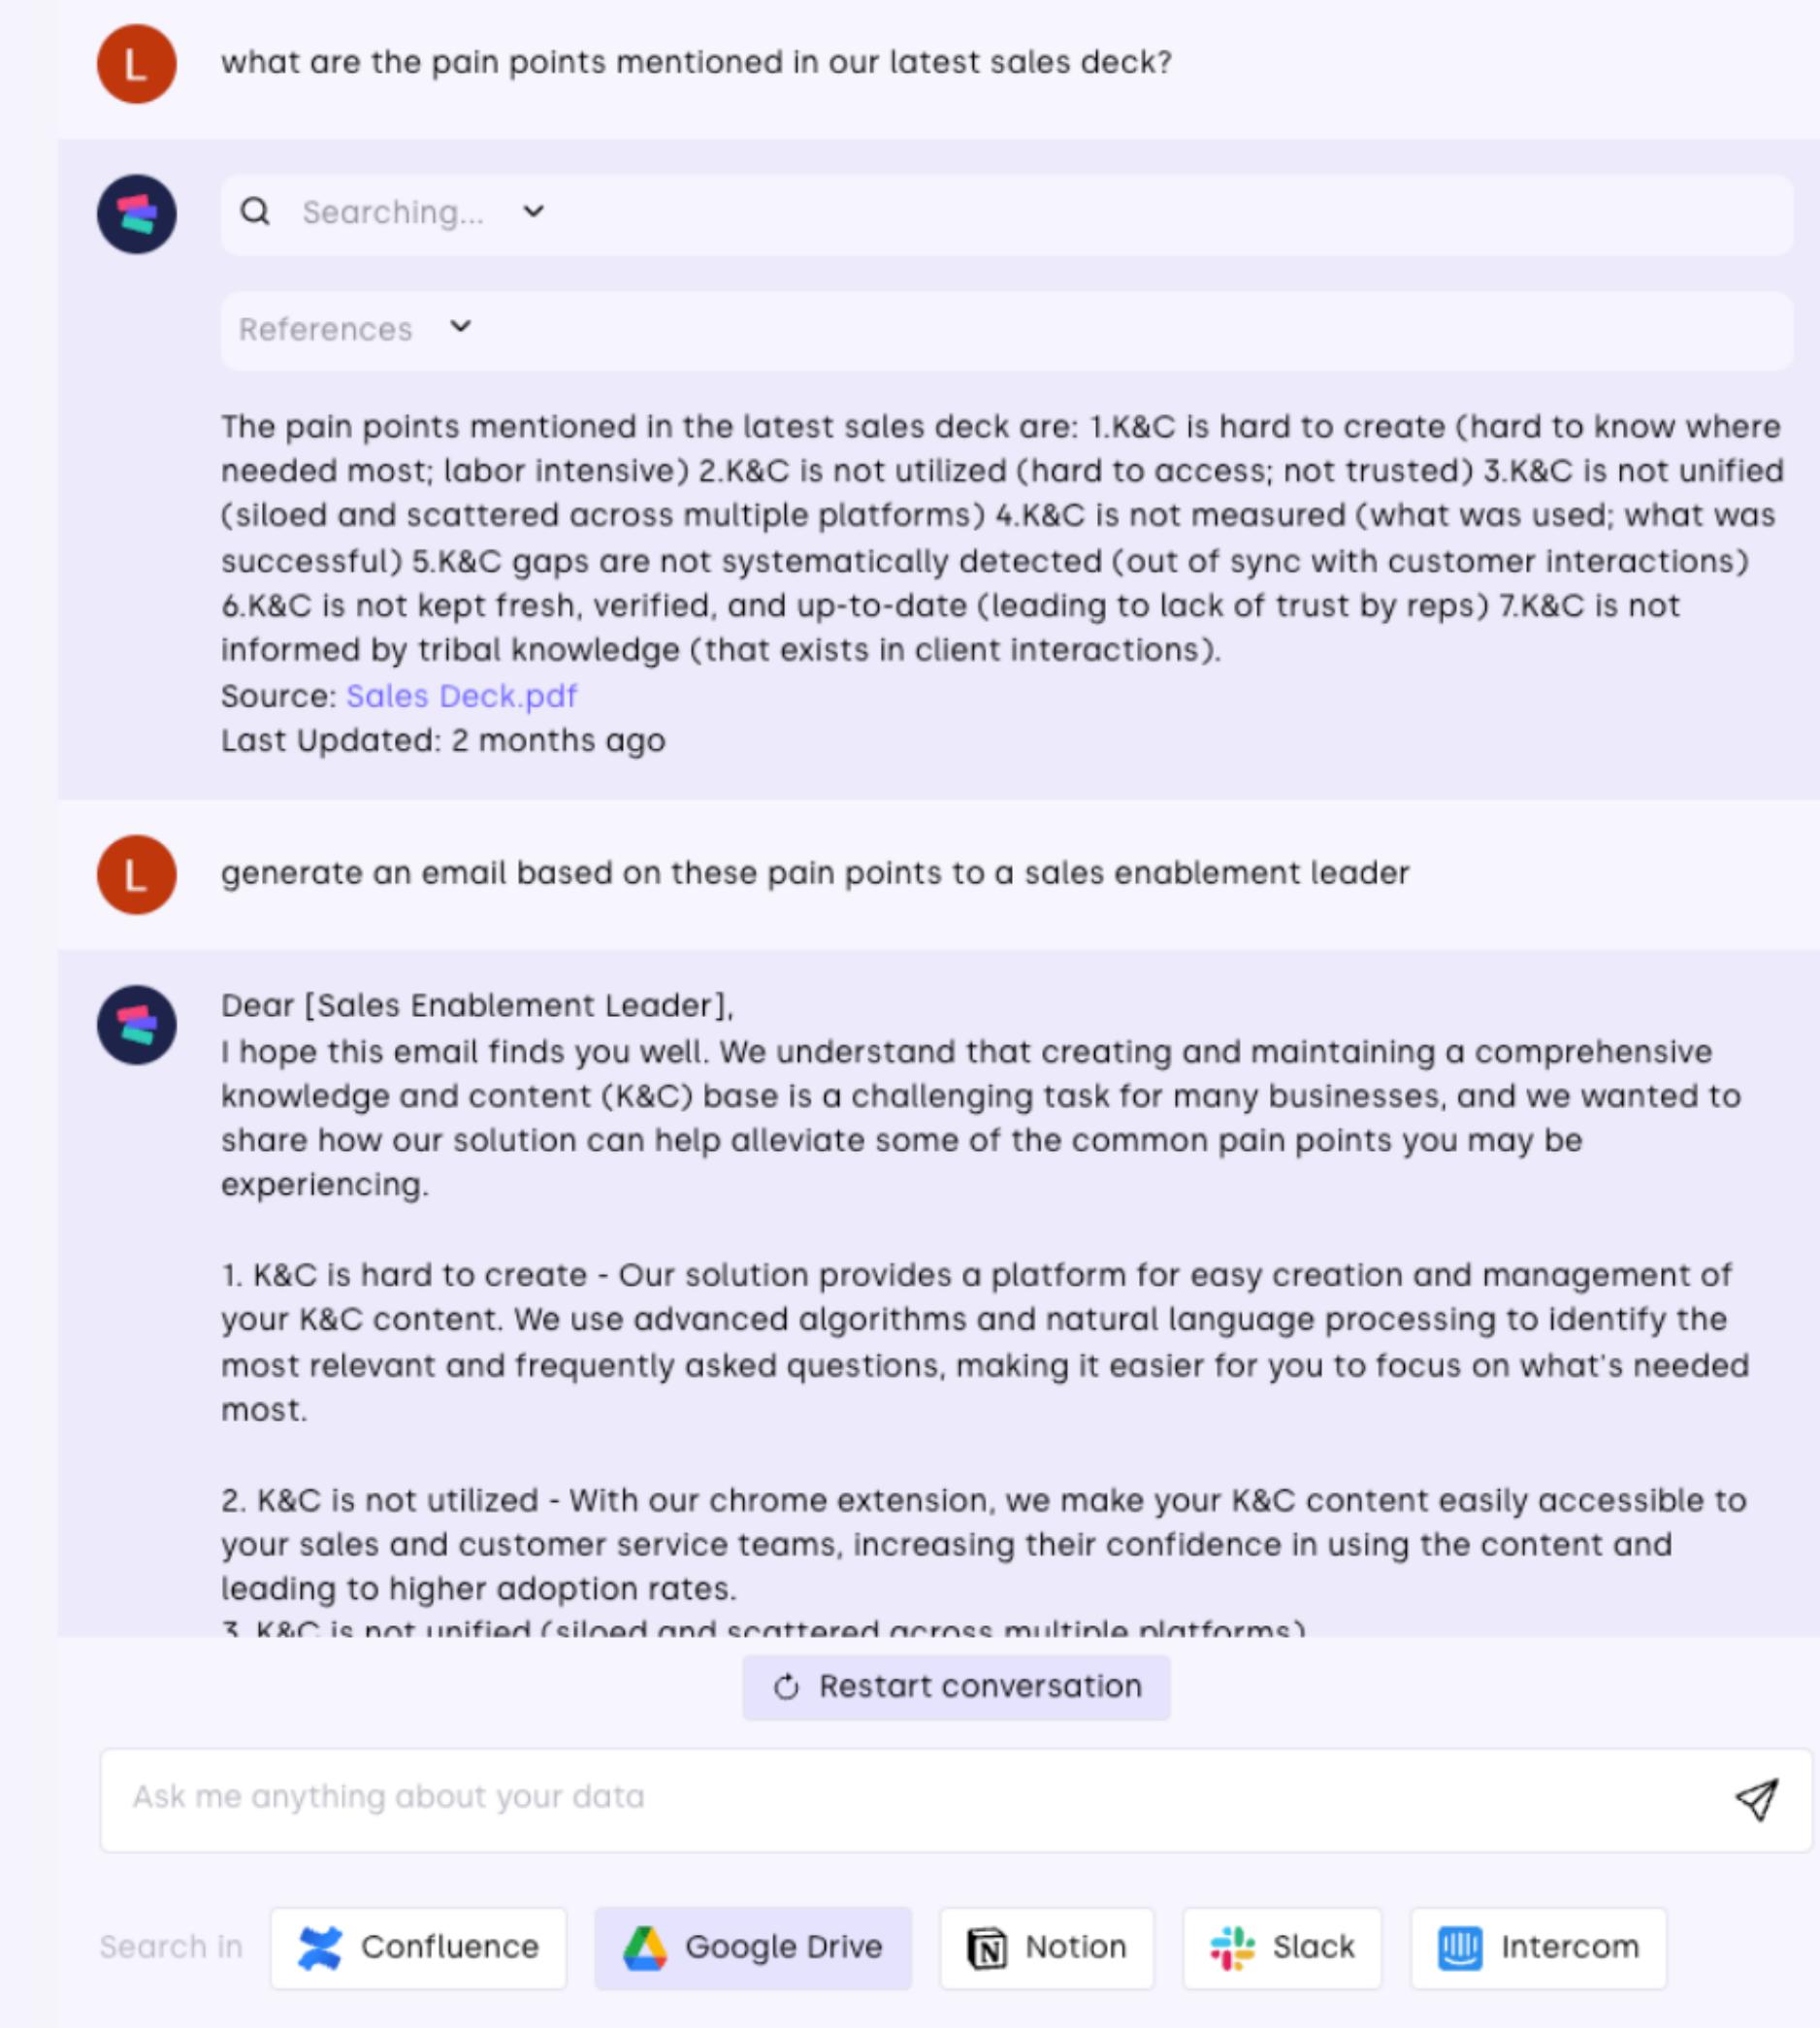

Chrome Extension

Slack Bot

Outlook Addon

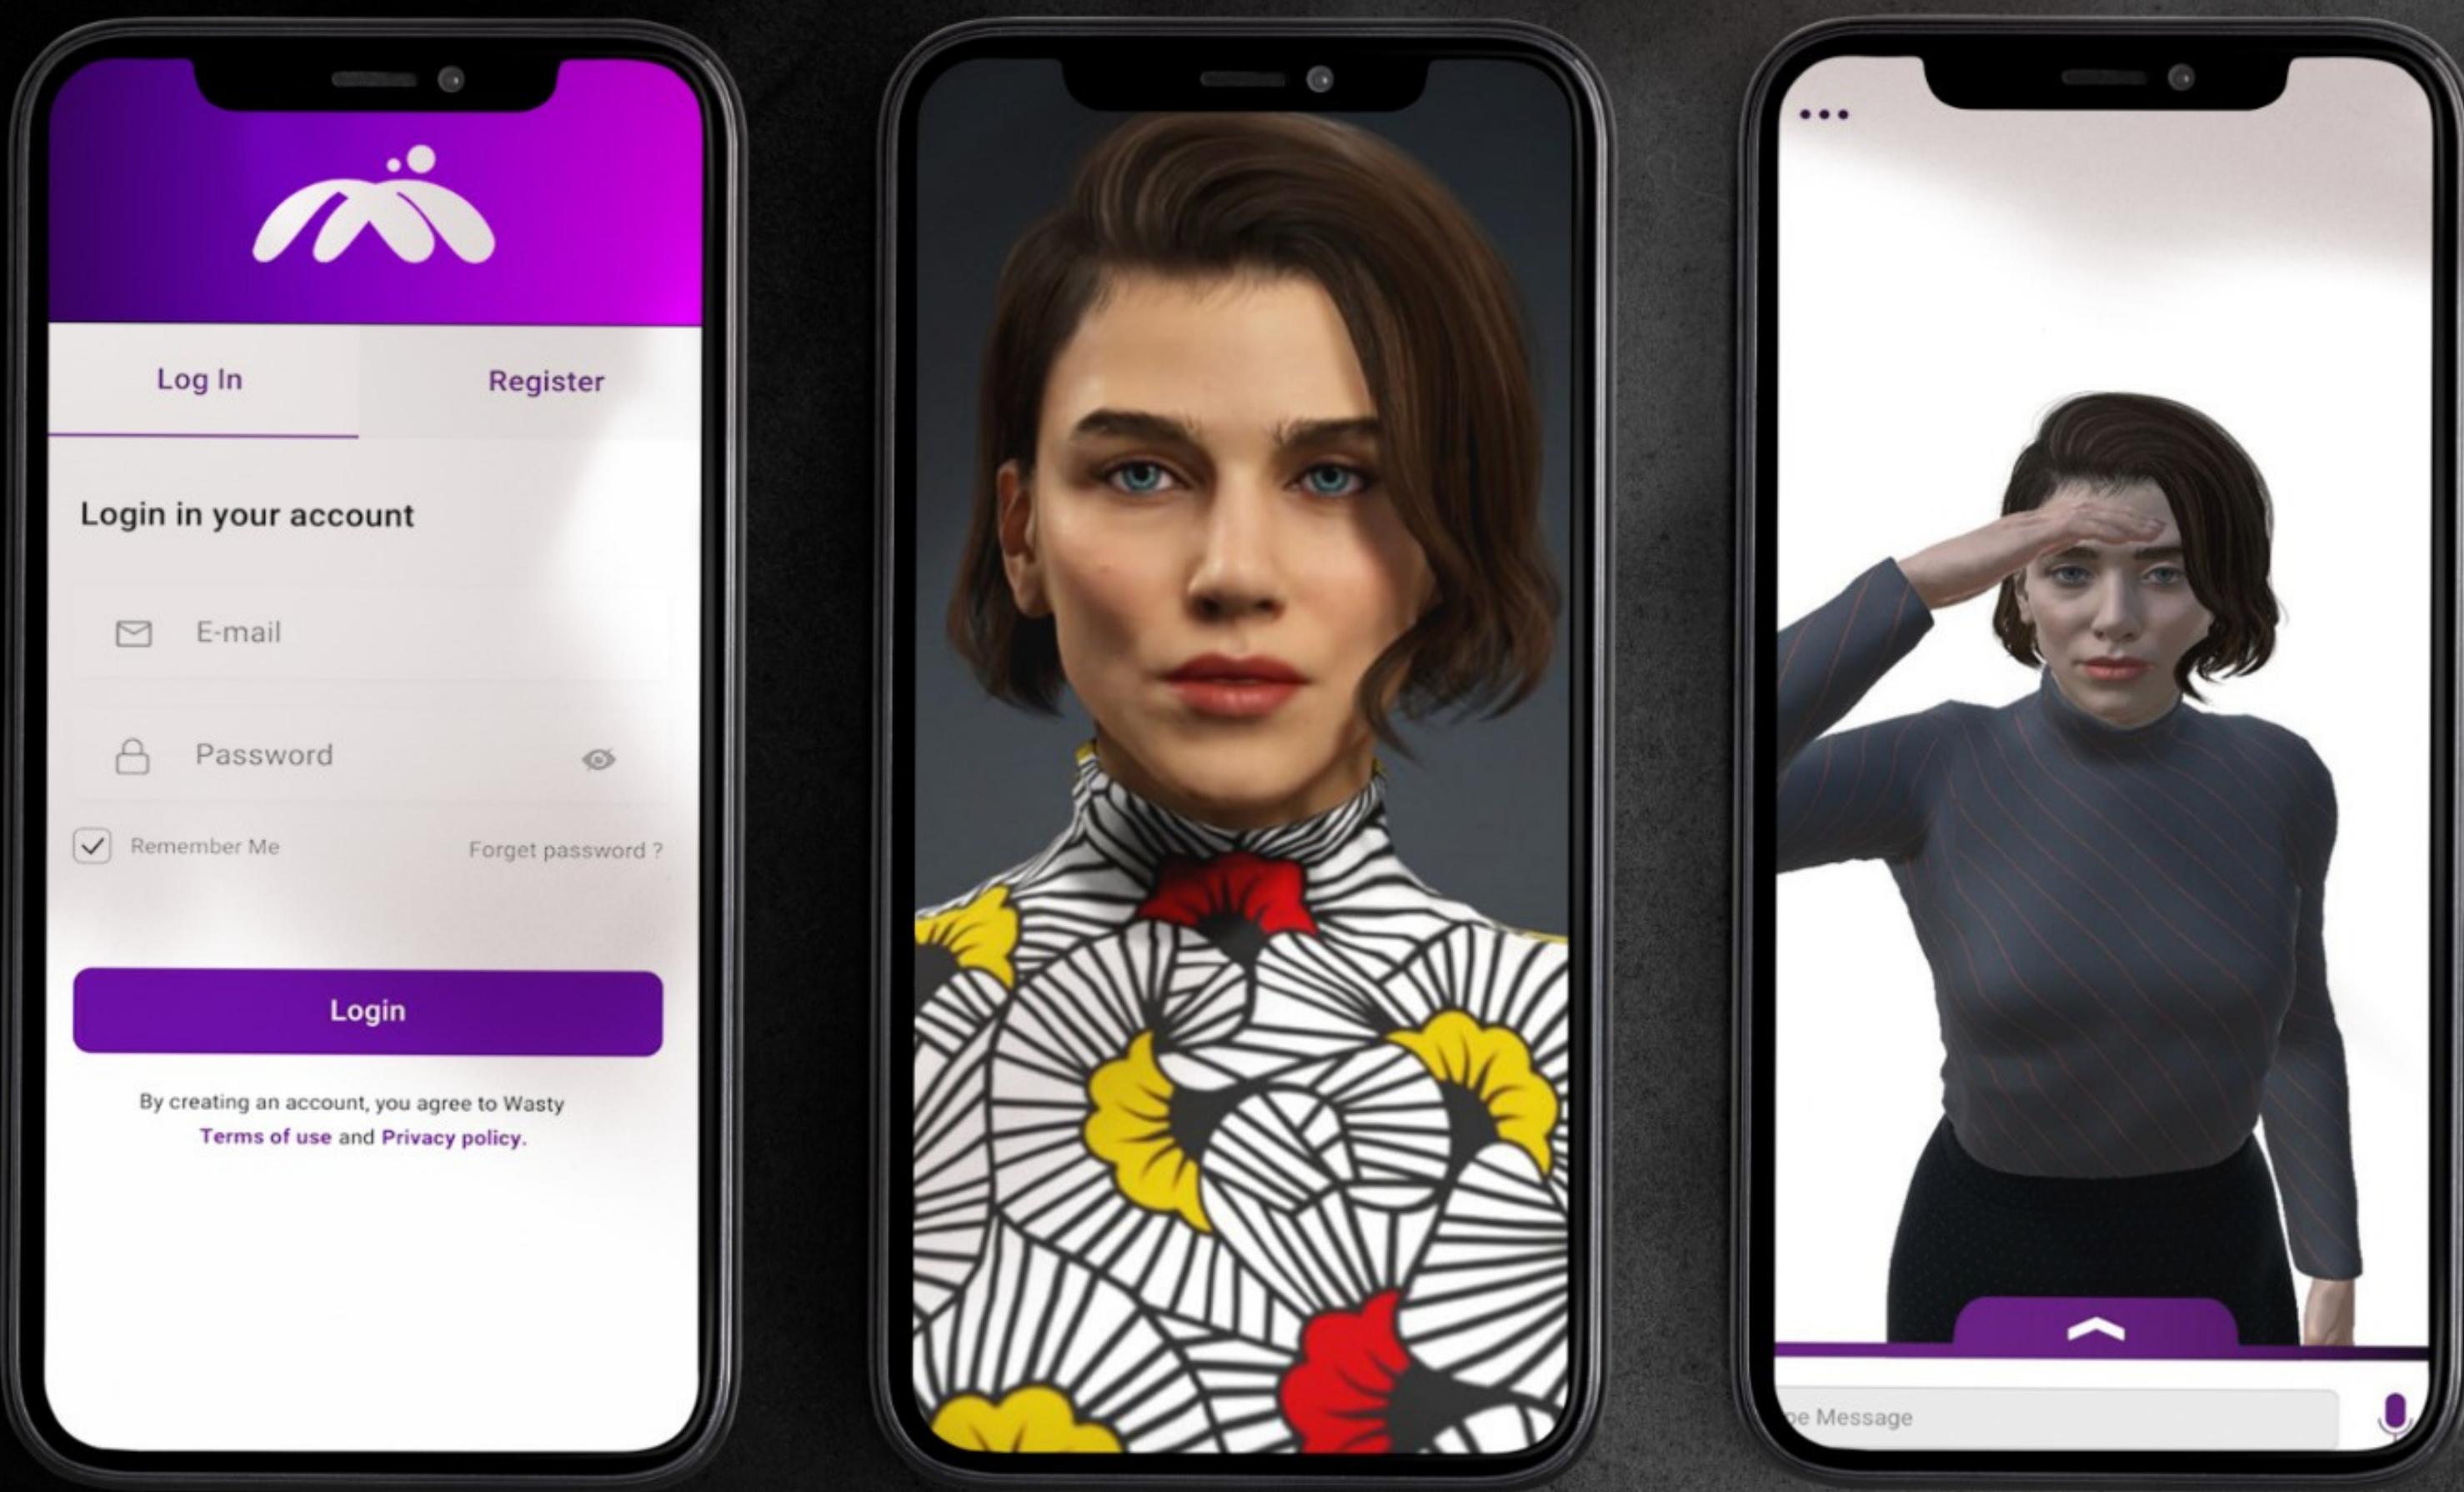

The screenshot shows a user interface for a knowledge management tool. At the top, there's a search bar with a placeholder "what are the pain points mentioned in our latest sales deck?". Below the search bar is a "References" section. A card displays a list of pain points from a "Sales Deck.pdf" source, last updated 2 months ago. The pain points listed are: 1. K&C is hard to create (hard to know where needed most; labor intensive) 2. K&C is not utilized (hard to access; not trusted) 3. K&C is not unified (siloes and scattered across multiple platforms) 4. K&C is not measured (what was used; what was successful) 5. K&C gaps are not systematically detected (out of sync with customer interactions) 6. K&C is not kept fresh, verified, and up-to-date (leading to lack of trust by reps) 7. K&C is not informed by tribal knowledge (that exists in client interactions). Below this is a button to "generate an email based on these pain points to a sales enablement leader". The generated email starts with "Dear [Sales Enablement Leader], I hope this email finds you well. We understand that creating and maintaining a comprehensive knowledge and content (K&C) base is a challenging task for many businesses, and we wanted to share how our solution can help alleviate some of the common pain points you may be experiencing." It then lists three points: 1. K&C is hard to create - Our solution provides a platform for easy creation and management of your K&C content. We use advanced algorithms and natural language processing to identify the most relevant and frequently asked questions, making it easier for you to focus on what's needed most. 2. K&C is not utilized - With our chrome extension, we make your K&C content easily accessible to your sales and customer service teams, increasing their confidence in using the content and leading to higher adoption rates. 3. K&C is not unified (siloes and scattered across multiple platforms). At the bottom of the interface, there are buttons for "Restart conversation", "Ask me anything about your data", and links to "Search in" Confluence, Google Drive, Notion, Slack, and Intercom.
